THE MOST NATURAL & ECO-FRIENDLY DRINKING STRAWS IN THE WORLD

Greenlid Wheat straws are compostable, disposable and naturally grown, not manufactured. We use a natural wheat harvest by-product that is simply cut, sorted, and rinsed three times with boiling distilled water.

Plastic straws are a global epidemic, damaging our oceans and the environment. Paper straws require chopping down our forests, then manufacturing the virgin paper, (with harmful, non-compostable glue) only for the straw to get soggy before you take your first sip.

Greenlid's Wheat Straws are home compostable and compostable in all facilities. Unlike "compostable" plastic straws, there is no special process or high heat needed to compost these straws, so they break down naturally and will never end up harming wildlife or polluting the planet.
